POINT TRANSFER DEVICE

Progress Report 552 & 552A for March 1966

Work on the Point Transfer Device was completing debugging and clean up work for acceptance tests. All elements of the system are operating with optimizing adjustments being made. Acceptance test were successfully completed March 30 and 31, and plans were made to ship the unit April 18, 1966.

The attached "Customer Review (CD-149) gives details of acceptance visit and outlines work that was required for shipment.

Work was advanced on the 552A #103 system during this reporting period with a schedule made to deliver this system in May 1966. The 552A #104 will be delayed several months because of the retrofitting to be done.
